Novus Aviation Capital appointed Lune Wang as senior vice president.

Wang joined the company's Hong Kong office in September.

She is tasked with the responsibility of business origination and will be involved in several of Novus' existing and prospective strategic initiatives.

"The role has shifted my base from China to Hong Kong, the solid finance and aviation hub of Asia, and the Novus team have made me feel very welcome in my new home here. As senior VP, working with my inspirational colleagues and industry friends across the globe I hope we can turn the current challenges in the market into a catalyst for innovation and an opportunity for growth," said Wang.

Before joining Novus, Wang was director and deputy general manager of Comsys Aviation Leasing.

"With a solid decade under her belt in the global aircraft leasing industry, Lune brings a wealth of knowledge and an innovative spirit that aligns perfectly with our company values and future-forward approach," said Novus.

Currently the Novus team operates out of its five global offices in the Middle East, Europe and Asia.
