Philippines-based regional carrier Airswift has taken delivery of a new ATR72-600 for its fleet.

The carrier agreed to lease the new aircraft from operating lessor Nordic Aviation Capital in March, the lessor confirms.

Airswift is a long-time customer of Nordic Aviation Capital. It already operates two ATR72-600s under lease agreements from the Danish lessor, according to Airfinance Journal's Fleet Tracker.

Two 2016-vintage ATR42-600 deliveries have also been purchased from Nordic Aviation Capital, Fleet Tracker shows. Those two units replaced two leased ATR42-500s, that were subsequently placed with Transura Air Services and Omni.
